OBJECTIVE

SWARM-ONE targets an average 3% (compounding) growth per trading day, with a floor of 1% and a ceiling of 5%, aiming to maximise return on capital while keeping certain risk metrics in control, including capital loading, transaction correlation and negative equity (5-10% preferably, 15% nominally, 25% occasionally, and 65% with black swans), with no incidents nor interventions, and operation that is 100% computational, correct and continuous. There are at least 240 trading days in a year, and more as we tap further into always-open cryptographic markets.

These are considered to be realistic targets given the fund's past performance, the nature of the technology, and the achievements of comparable systems. However, there are no guarantees about future performance, and there are risks involved.

STRATEGY

The fund employs a suite of algorithms using a swarming and flocking technique to operate independently yet cooperatively and generate yield in highly liquid currency, cryptographic and contract-for-difference markets on a continuous 24/7 basis (subject to market availability) with adaptive correlation and risk management features, real-time management, monitoring and alerting, plus the assurance of safety valves, backstops and circuit breakers.

The algorithms, typically twenty at any time, are in continuous adoption, adjustment, application, release, and removal in terms of their individual and independent execution and their relationship to each other. They enact a large volume of small transactions which are typically held open for less than a day, and rarely beyond a week, which exploit a variety of pricing movements over different time frames.

JULY 2022

The fund completed its first full calendar month of live operation after nearly a year of design, implementation and evaluation. It performed within expected operational parameters and without material exceptions or interventions, including sailing through a couple of unexpected market movements such as those resulting from central bank rate adjustments in the United States, Canada and the Euro zone.
